Register & Log In

The first step to using the CLARO site most effectively is to register your name and email address. This will allow you to view all sections of the site and to record your participation in online training for continuing education credits. It takes only a few moments and afterwards you will need to log in.

Exploring the Home Page

You can find information that is grouped by topic or by role. Click on the category of choice and browse through the articles and reports.

Using the Calendar

When you link to the calendar page, you can see many opportunities for continuing education via live workshops and conferences or webinars. You can also add events that you are aware of to the calendar. After they are approved, they will appear on the calendar. Click on the calendar items to see additional details, like how to register.

Online CLE Training

You can go to the Training Opportunities section and browse through the various topics that have been collected archived. Some are stored on the CLARO site and others are hyperlinked to other sites. Please make sure you have logged in before you view training courses so that if there are credits available, you will be able to obtain them. Your credits for Louisiana CLE will be electronically submitted. You will be requested to enter your Bar Roll Number.

Other Online Training

Additional opportunities for online training are in the section titled “Other Training Opportunities.” In this area you will find courses of interest to CASA volunteers, social workers, attorneys, foster and adoptive families, youth and more.

We continue to add to these sections regularly. Some of the links will have a mechanism for you to request CLE or CEU credits, but in this section you will submit them yourself.

Current Events & Updates

New reports, legislative updates and announcements are placed on the front page of the website for everyone to see as soon as they arrive on the site. The calendar column on the side has a list of the next items coming up and the corresponding dates. To find out more, click on the item name.

What else is on the CLARO Website?

Qualified Children's Attorneys—Rule and List

Rule 33, Part II, Subpart I of the Supreme Court Rules provides for qualification of children's attorneys by meeting 3 requirements (licensed, in good standing, completion of 6 hours of approved legal education). The Supreme Court does not "qualify" attorneys per se, but does maintain a list of those attorneys who have met the qualification requirements. So attorneys are qualified as soon as they have met all three requirements, even if they haven't sent in their paperwork and/or their names have not yet been posted on the website.

Bench Cards for Judges and Model Rules

Not every case is the same and not all Judges are solely assigned to CINC cases. There are Bench Cards developed to assist you with your role as a Judge. The Bench Cards were created by the Louisiana Supreme Court-Court Improvement Program and include reporting forms, ICWA information and best practice tips.

Children and Youth Planning Boards—Annual Reports

The Children and Youth Planning Boards (CYPB) were created by Act 555 of the 2004 Regular Session to address the many issues and needs of at-risk children and youth at the local level. Established by the governing authority in each judicial district, the purpose of the Children and Youth Planning Boards is to assist in the assessment, alignment, coordination, prioritization, and measurement of all available services and programs that address the needs of children and youth in a community. Per statute, Children and Youth Planning Boards are required to submit an annual report to the Children's Cabinet. This annual report is designed to help the Children's Cabinet gain a better understanding of the status and needs of each planning board as well as meet its statutory charge to provide technical assistance to local planning boards. The reports are available online by Judicial District.
